

Homeware - Tara broken bangles range

Fair Trade Gifts

Handmade by Tara Projects in India.

Tara Projects recycles waste broken bangles from factories to make these products. The glass pieces are separated into colours by the artisans before being glued onto glass shapes.

Many women who do not usually have regular work are able to help their families through the income generated from these products.

www.shareearth.co.uk