

Sculpture, art or scrap? ...Maybe all three!

A selection of bikes from Kenya and India, many recycled, which provide work for artisans who might otherwise have no income. This has been especially so because of Covid, when many orders have been cancelled and it's been hard for craftsmen and women to make a living.

Want to fight climate change? Swap your car for a bike!

Transport is the UK's biggest emitter of greenhouse gases. Emissions from energy have dropped by 60% since 1990, but emissions from transport have barely changed at all. We need to change our ways – and travelling by bike, whilst not practical for all, is a great alternative. By cycling, you can help to reduce global warming, get fit and save money into the bargain!

Bike chain, nuts and bolts

These products are made in a Fair Trade workshop in Moradabad, Northern India.

The recycled bicycle chains come from two sources: 60% are collected from bicycle repair centres and 40% are cut-offs/loose waste from factories and big shops.

Such quirky items always catch customers' attention and are excellent gifts for men and all passionate cyclists!

Recycled brass chimes

Waste brass is melted down and poured into moulds to make the bells. Making brass from new zinc and copper is uneconomical, so recycling creates a sustainable industry. Melting down a variety of brass alloys creates a rich array of warm golden hues.

Recycled glass mobiles

We introduced this range of eco mobiles, made in Bali from recycled glass and driftwood in August, and they've sold well, so well in fact that we sold out of some designs well before Christmas!

But how could we not think of one with 10 green bottles? Made up for here with a joke one with 10 green bottles + 20% FREE (and yes, the price really is the same).
