TOP SELLING RANGE

Due to the huge success of this popular range, we introduce 3 new animals, all threatened by the destruction of the forests they dwell in. Like you, we are alarmed at the many threats facing the natural world, and this range of beach bags will we hope raise awareness of some of the most endangered species around the world.

Each bag comes with a designer label that explains about the individual animal and the main threats that it faces, primarily from human activity.

The bags are screen printed and assembled by a Fair Trade producer group in India so buying these beautiful and colourful bags promotes Fair Trade and artisan crafts in India too!

Kisii animals

Our kisii stone is from Tabaka self-help group, founded in 1991 by Charles Nyanita to help provide food for his family in what is a very poor rural area of Kenya. Now, the group has approximately 50 members.

Last year, Zuri (which imports the stone) provided 200 masks to carvers and their community, donated washing barrels and set up training workshops on soap making, an income generation activity aimed at helping the community during the downturn in trade caused by Covid. Shared Earth has also tried to help out by commissioning more products than we would normally buy.

The Ancient Mariners - Save our turtles!

All sea turtles are at risk. Entanglement in fishing nets, plastics and other waste are a big problem; their habitats are increasingly degraded by coastal development; they are often killed for food, or to make handicrafts; finally rise in sea temperatures through global warming affects their eggs, and violent storms their nesting sites. What can we do? Turtle-friendly tourism, better fishing methods, even just reducing the use of plastic bags... They're part of a much bigger problem and raising awareness about the threats to our oceans through global warming, over-fishing, pollution and plastic waste will all help.

Save our elephants!

The main threat to elephants is a familiar one: loss of habitat. The risk is especially severe for Asian elephants, where habitats are increasingly fragmented by roads, logging, agriculture and new building. Poaching for ivory is a bigger issue in Africa. Both species are threatened by climate change.

Elephants need a huge amount of water, difficult enough anyway, but climate change is bringing more and more droughts and unpredictable weather patterns. Anything we can do to tackle the climate crisis will help!

Bee houses

We all know that the wild world is under threat. One way we can all help is to provide easy homes for birds and bees.

The bee houses here are designed to provide nest cells for solitary bees of which there are 240 species in the UK. Species such as the red mason bees and leafcutter bees nest in tubes or tunnels. You can encourage these busy pollinators by providing artificial nest sites such as those we are selling here. Bee houses must be positioned in full sun, facing south or east, and be at least a metre off the ground.

Save our bees!

Insects, pesticides, disease, GMO crops – there are many reasons for the sharp decline in bee numbers in recent years. At Shared Earth we are doing all we can to ‘save our bees!’ and we hope you will join us. Many of these products are top sellers so your business will benefit too!
