Coconut incense holders & ashcatchers

We're doing what we can at Shared Earth to tackle climate change, and one of the best things we can do is source products which are made from sustainable materials. Coconut shell from Bali is ideal.

The trees grow in abundance all over the island; it's a waste product which is gathered locally right next to where the producers carve it into these colourful designs; and of course energy use is minimal. Combine that with carbon-neutral shipping to the UK and you have a perfect eco product.
