Salt soap

This 100% rock salt 'soap' contains natural antibacterial properties. The unique pinkish hue is derived from trace elements including Iron, calcium, magnesium, and potassium. No additives, vegan and cruelty-free.

This soap does not lather up, of course. It can be rubbed directly on to the skin or, for sensitive skin types, it can be rubbed in to the hand or on to a bath mitt and then applied to the skin. Alternatively it can be dropped into a bath for five minutes (remember to then let it dry). Salt soap is claimed to help alleviate the symptoms of a variety of dermatological conditions such as: eczema, acne, psoriasis, athlete's foot and dermatitis.

Hand-carved soapstone

Our stone items are hand carved by the master craftsmen of Agra, descendants of the artisans who worked on the Taj Mahal. These stone pieces are made from Palewa (grey) or Gorara (beige/brown) stone, so there can be interesting variations in the colour and patterns within the stone, making each product unique.

NEW RANGE

Nobunto Candles

Nobunto Candles, based in South Africa, is a new supplier for us and we highly recommend them. Their excellent packaging makes them perfect as gifts.

Dignity and pride are still missing for many in the post-apartheid era, these are key qualities which Nobunto Candles tries to instill in its workers. The suppression of human rights can still be seen today in some of the more deprived parts of South Africa. At Nobunto, the entire production process is in the hands of a small team of artisans, giving them increasing self-confidence and allowing some wonderful creative initiatives to occur. In the words of an old South African proverb, "the absence of the chief increases respect". Economically, the artisans have security and a positive feeling of responsibility for the direction of their futures.

This is the first time that Shared Earth has bought directly from South Africa and we are delighted to be doing so. Nobunto Candles runs according to WFTO (World Fair Trade Organisation) principles and is yearly certified under the Swiss Fair Trade certifier Fair For Life.
